Where Does the World Go from Here?

Virtual 43rd Annual Conference
October 21-23, 2020
SPONSORS

Our programming for the 43rd Virtual Annual Conference has been made possible by the support of our sponsors listed below. We thank Bruce Fowler and Manfred Philipp for funding the conference scholarships that enable students and faculty to participate as well. The Association would also like to thank the Department of State, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs for its ongoing support for alumni engagement.
WELCOME TO THE 43RD ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF THE FULBRIGHT ASSOCIATION!

Nobel Peace Prize laureate, Martin Luther King, Jr., spent a long period in isolation, living in a rented residence in Jamaica, in order to write his fourth and last book, “Where Do We Go From Here: Chaos or Community,” which was published in 1967. More than half a century later, his powerful words are particularly relevant as we are reminded of the long road towards achieving social justice and equality.

We have dedicated our first Virtual Conference to creating dialogue among our Fulbright community about some of the greatest challenges facing us locally, nationally and globally. The opportunity to present digitally brought us a wealth of potential speakers and presenters, resulting in an outstanding program which covers topics ranging from race relations, to environment, public health, education and the arts. We hope you will actively engage and attend as many sessions as possible.

This year has been extraordinary on so many levels. The pandemic has created obstacles quite like no others faced before by the global Fulbright community and for international educational exchange. We want to pay special tribute to all those impacted as program administrators, policy makers, commissions and posts overseas, institutions of higher education, community hosts, and most importantly grantees, whether you are returned, pending or prospective. As we approach the 75th anniversary year of the Fulbright program, never has it been more important to build our community and dedicate ourselves to sharing knowledge and promoting mutual understanding.

We hope this conference energizes you. Thank you for your support of the Fulbright Association.

Most sincerely,

DeDe Long

What guides us?

We’re the Peace Corps community—250,000 strong with a global perspective. We’re committed to social impact in the work we do—around the world and right here at home. We know how important it is to support education and cultural understanding. (Some of us are Fulbrighters, too!) Together we can amplify our voices. And, through a time of crisis, we can help shape a country that is part of—not apart from—a more peaceful and prosperous world. Basic membership is free.

Colt Bradley calls North Carolina home now. He took this photo of the school in Missamana, Guinea, where he was serving as a Peace Corps Volunteer until he was evacuated in March. As tough as the journey sometimes is, beauty and wonder are part of it, too. So is community.

Be part of a global community committed to building peace and friendship.

Where Does the World Go From Here?

RAJI SUNDAY JAMES

Look at how things are going in this country: inflation, the state of the economy, whatever. Despite the government, we survive; we survive. If we Nigerians were lazy, there would be chaos everywhere. We don't wait on the government. If we Nigerians were lazy, categorically that we are not people who depend on it. I mean, the people are just incredible. I don't know how they do it, but I'm gonna tell you. NIGERIA IS A MORE AMAZING COUNTRY THAN I'VE EVER SEEN BEFORE, and I don't know how they do it, but I'm gonna tell you.

nigeriaisamoreamazingcountrythaniveeverseenbefore,
I mean, the people are just incredible. I don’t know how they do it, but I’m gonna tell you categorically that we are not people who depend on the government. If we Nigerians were lazy, there would be chaos everywhere. We don’t wait for the government in order to survive; we survive in spite of the government.

Look at how things are going in this country: inflation, the state of the economy, whatever things are going on, we are still grinding.
